Thank you for the memories. For mowing our lawn when it was a foot high. For the fun Halloween themes. You made a great Lion from the Wizard of Oz, and of course, Batman. For the invites to the boat. For the dinners when Tom or I were sick. For the neighborhood get togethers, camp fires, conversations, and the laughter. You will be missed, but will always be loved. The Oravec"s

Emily, Anna, and I moved into the Lakes at virtually the same time as Duane and Kelly and immediately became great friends. I will always treasure the times we spent together laughing and playing games. I still can't accept the fact that you are gone and so regret not having traveled back to visit all of times I had intended to do so. You are dearly missed, my friend.
