Mom I can't believe tomorrow will be a year that you entered your new journey to a new life we will not know for a long time. I miss you more and more with each day. You are on my mind from the second I wake up to the minute I fall asleep. There's not a second in the day that I don't wish you were here with us. I never imagine life without you and I don't know how I'm surviving it. Rough road doesn't begin to describe it, everyday is a numbness fog. I don't know if you're safe, if you're happy, if you're missing us like we miss you. I don't know if I've missed the Angel winks or if you just aren't sending them. I want you to come visit, I want you to let me know that you're here. Please continue to send the strength to continue to go on when it's hard to. I miss you more than anyone can ever know! I love you

Dear Mike and family ive had the pleasure to be part of your lives. Debbie was always the real key to holding the family together. Her strength ,her forgiveness, her love and compassion will always be remembered. Deb always had the coffee on and was there for conversation or to lend an ear when needed .I will miss her dearly. Love Homie
