Today I "googled" my dear high school friend, Dennis Koharik, to see if I could find a phone number to reach him at. I was stunned to hear that Dennis passed away a year ago. I so regret not having done a better job of keeping in touch with this wonderful man. We had many good times together in high school. One memory is when he beeped his horn outside my house to tell me that Abbey Road was available for sale and that he had just purchased it. I hopped in his car and he took me to ParmaTown to buy my own copy! Rest in peace, Dennis.
