I miss you my grandpa, will all my being. To know that I can only go to you in memories now shatters my soul, but that's why I'm so thankful that we created so many memories. I cry so often longing to hear your voice. You were my everything, grandpa. I will never get over losing you. I write these messages because of the messages that I saw you write to Nana on her memorial page, letting her know that she's never forgotten. You're always alive in my heart grandpa. Until the end of eternity, I love you

I miss you my grandpa. I miss you with every breath I am blessed to breathe. There's been so many times that all I need to hear is "it's going to be okay baby" from you. There's never been any greater comfort than talking with you and hearing you tell me those words. I'm only able to continue this life without you because I lean on the Lord. Me and Grammy are always always together nowadays. It's weird if there's a day that passes that we aren't together. My heart will remain in pieces forever grandpa. You're alive with every beat of my heart. I love you until the end of eternity ☐

You're my whole heart. This life was perfect with you in it. The silly character you were will never fail to make me giggle as I look back at all our special times. I can't help but feel empty without you. Talking eachothers ears off at the most random times of the day was my favorite. You're alive in my thoughts and conversations every single day. I'll love you till the end of eternity my sweet sweet grandpy angel.
