I might've I looked forward to seeing my Uncle Mike more than Gram and Grampa Miller when I'd hear that my brother and I were gonna stay all weekend at the house in North Olmstead. It was the 80's. We didn't care how many "followers" or "likes" we had. We didn't need Pokeman or "Smart" whatever's. There were cool fish tanks, RC Airplanes, pretty girls, motorcycles, cars, learning how to play pool, bowling at Buckeye Lanes and just getting hanging out in the basement. I guarantee some of the awesome stuff I did with my Uncle Mike would get a million "views" if we had the Interweb back then. Love and Miss you Uncle Mike!!! Thank you!!!Jerry Miller

One of my favorite memories with him was when he took me in his car for a ride and I thought it was the coolest thing ever that we got to face backwards while riding in a car, and we would watch car races together sitting on the couch all of the time. RIP Uncle Mike
